Naples, March 14.

LAST Sunday the Marquis de Suza arrived here from Rome, under a Guard of German Horse which attended him at Capua, by Order of the Viceroy. We have received Advice from Manfredonia, that the Vessels laden with Corn and other Provisions designed for this City were ready to set sail, under the Convoy of a Man of War, commanded by Captain Prasca. Our last Letters from Barcelona say, that every thing was preparing for the Departure of the Empress.

From the Amst. and Leid. Gaz. dated April 7.

Rome, March 18. The Pope assisted at Chappel last Sunday, according to Custom; and it being the Feast of St. Gregory, his Holiness went to visit Monte Celio and the Church of St. Mary de Naricella. The next Day he gave a long Audience to the Marquis de Prie, who is preparing to return very shortly to the Court of Vienna. This Minister notified to the Pope, that he had received the Emperour's Consent to the Marriage of the Daughter of the Viceroy of Naples to the eldest Son of the Duke Rospi-liosi. The same Day Father Beraudini, a Dominican, Master of the sacred Palace, died here, aged 94 Years. Yesterday a Chappel was held for the customary Indulgences, where were present a great Number of Cardinals and Prelates, as likewise the Marquis de Prie and the Constable Colonna. Several Banditti have been lately pursued, who had committed great Disorders in the Neighbourhood of this City; and Six of them have been taken and carried to Frosinona, among whom were two Women dressed in Men's Cloaths, and armed: They will be tried and executed the first Opportunity. We have Advice, that 5000 Germans are to be sent to Orbitello in April, to fortify the Places of Tuscany which are under the Dominion of the Emperour. Frequent Congregations of the holy Office are held in Presence of the Pope, with the Assistance of all the Councillors and Ministers of that Tribunal. Among other Matters which are therein consulted, it is not doubted but this great Application concerns chiefly the Examination of a Book printed in France, with the Approbation of the Cardinal Archbishop of Paris, containing Remarks on the New Testament; which are written with so much Address, that the most ingenious among the Learned of this Court are not a little embarrassed to unravel the Sence; which they would condemn. Upon Advices which we have had that King Philip had declared he will not receive any Nuncio of the Pope in his Court till the Differences are adjusted which he has with this Pontiff, the Departure of Cardinal Gualtieri is hastened, in hopes that he will by his mild Temper and great Abilities very much contribute to this Accommodation.

Venice, March 24. The Magistrate of Health having received better News from the Places suspected of the Contagion, has reduced the Quarantain for Persons and Goods coming from thence to 21 Days, and it is probable that in a little time this Precaution will not be any longer necessary. The last Letters from Constantinople say, that the Ambassador from the Republick of Genoa had caused a Memorial to be presented to the Grand Signior, to regulate the Rank he is to have among the foreign Ministers residing at the Ottoman Porte; and that he had been complimented and visited by the Ambassadors of France and Great-Britain, but not yet by the Ambassador of Holland, because of some Difficulties. As the Empress is to pass over Italy incognito, upon her Return from Barcelona to the Court of Vienna, the Pope will not send to her a Legate a Latere, nor this Republick a solemn Ambassy: But the Cardinal Cusani will Compliment her at Milan on the Part of Clement the 11th, and Signior Emo on the Frontier of the Veroneze on the Part of the Republick.

Lisbon, March 14. Don Pedro Mascharino, General of the Portuguese Army, set out this Morning for the Army on the Frontiers of Portugal, to adjust and prolong the Suspension of Arms for 4 Months with the Marquis de Bay, General of the Spanish Army, in regard that this Prolongation could not be made at Utrecht. The Portuguese Troops which were in Catalonia arrived this Week, to the Number of 1400 Horse and 900 Foot, having passed through Spain.

From the Paris Gazette, dated April 1.

Paris, April 1. The 24th of last Month Toussaints de Forbin de Janson, Cardinal, Bishop, and Count de Beauvais, Peer and Great Almoner of France, died in this City, after a long Sickness, aged 84 Years. He was sacred Coadjutor de Digne in the Year 1653, and also Dean of the Bishops of France. He was afterwards nominated to the Bishoprick of Marseilles, and served the King and the Province very usefully in the States of Provence. In 1674, he was Ambassador extraordinary extraordinary in Poland, and by his Management contributed very much to the Election of the Grand Marshal Sobieski. In 1679, he was nominated Bishop of Beauvais, and the following Year returned into Poland, and acquitted himself with Success in divers Negotiations in several Courts of Germany. In 1689, he was made Commander of the Order of the Holy Ghost, and Cardinal in the Promotion made by Pope Alexander the 8th the 13th of February 1690. He was present in the Conclave for the Election of Pope Innocent the 12th. After which he had the Charge of the French Affairs at Rome for the Space of 7 Years. He returned thither in 1700, and assisted at the Election of Clement the 11th, and came back in 1706; in which Year the King bestowed on him the Office of Great Almoner, vacant by the Death of the Cardinal de Coillin. The 28th of last Month his Majesty reviewed the French and Swiss Guards at Versailles. From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated April 7.

Frankfort, April 2. We hear that the Emperor, to shew the Care he has of the Good of the Empire and of the Common Cause, has ordered Prince Eugene to make a Review of the Army on the Upper Rhine, and to take an exact Account who have or have not furnished their Contingents. 'Tis said a Plot has been discovered at Philipsbourg. They write from Ratisbonne that nothing considerable has passed there for some time, but that they expect shortly the Count de Metternich from the King of Prussia.

London, April 3.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from Dunkirk.

From the Paris Gazette, dated April 3.

Madrid, March 20. The King has caused fifty thousand Crowns to be sent to Biscay, for beginning the building of Six Men of War. The Lord Lexington has offered his Majesty, on the Part of the Queen his Mistress, to furnish him with as many Men of War as he may have Occasion for, and such as he himself shall chuse, and at a very moderate Price; the said Price to be deducted out of what the English are to pay to him, by the Treaty made with them, for supplying the Spanish West-Indies with Negroes.
